A handwritten manuscript page with Arabic text. The text is written in black ink on a yellowed, aged paper. A prominent red line runs diagonally across the page, starting from the left margin and extending towards the right. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words written in a larger, bolder script. The overall appearance is that of an old, possibly religious or historical, document.

This block contains a scan of a single page from an old, yellowed book. The page features handwritten text in Arabic script, which appears to be from a historical or religious manuscript. The ink is dark, and the paper is heavily discolored with age. The text is arranged in several lines, with some parts being crossed out or written over. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged historical document.
